Notice of Statutory Rights

Under the Access to Medical Reports Act 1988 and the Access to Personal Files and Medical Reports (Northern Ireland) Order 1991 and the Access to Health Records and Reports (Isle of Man) Act 1993, the Provider reserves the right to apply for a medical report from any doctor who has at any time attended you. The declaration gives us your consent to apply for such a report if we need to.

Your rights:

- You do not have to give your consent but, without it, the Provider will not be prepared to accept your request.
- If you do give your consent, you can indicate whether or not you wish to see any report before it is sent to us.

If you indicate that you do not wish to see any report:

- The doctor can forward it to us immediately and we should be able to process your proposal without delay.
- You can, however, still change your mind at any time within six months and notify the doctor that you wish to see the report. If the doctor has already forwarded the report to us, he/she will send you a copy and, if not, he/she will give you 21 days to arrange to see it.

If you indicated that you do wish to see any report:

- This may delay the processing of your proposal.
- The doctor is allowed to charge you a fee to cover the cost of supplying you with the report.
- You should follow the procedures outlined below.

Procedures for Access to Reports

1. If you indicate that you do wish to see any report we will notify you if we apply for one, and will inform the doctor of your wishes. You will then have 21 days to contact the doctor to arrange to see the report.
2. If you do see the report, the doctor must obtain your consent before sending it to us.
3. You have the right to request that the doctor amends any part of a report you consider incorrect or misleading, and can attach your written views on any part the doctor refuses to amend.
4. The doctor does not have to let you see any part of a report that he/she considers would be likely to cause serious harm to the physical or mental health of yourself or others, or that would indicate his/her intentions towards you. He/she also does not have to let you see any part that would be likely to disclose information about, or the identity of, another person who has supplied information about you, unless that person has consented or the information relates to, or has been supplied by, a health professional caring for you. If the doctor does not let you see any part of the report he/she must notify you of that fact.

What is personal information?

Personal information means any information about you which is personally identifiable, including your name, age, address, telephone number, email address, financial details, and any other information from which you can be identified. It will also include genetic and biometric data, location data and online identifiers which may identify you, such as your internet protocol (IP) address (the unique personal address which identifies your device on the internet) and mobile device IDs.

What do we collect?

The Product Providers will collect the following information about you and your dependants (this includes your authorised Power of Attorney) when you use their services or they may collect it indirectly from their business partners, such as financial intermediaries:

- Personal data: your name, date of birth, telephone number, address, email address, dependants, marital status, IP address and media access control (MAC) address.
- Sensitive/special categories of personal data: gender and other sensitive information such as information about your physical and mental health. They recognise that information about health is particularly sensitive information. Should consent be the legal basis of processing special categories of personal data, they will ask for consent to collect and use this information.
- Financial information: information that may relate to your financial circumstances (for example your pension values, income and existing investments), bank account details and details of product options you may consider.

- Technical Information: such as details on the devices and technology you use.
- Public Records: This includes open data such as the Electoral register, Land register or information that is openly available on the internet.
- Documentary data and national identifiers: Information that is stored on your passport, driving license, birth certificate, and National Insurance number.

As well as collecting personal information about you, they may also use personal information about other people, for example family members you wish to insure on a policy. If you are providing information about another person, the Product Providers expect you to ensure the other person knows you are doing so and are content with their information being provided to them. You might find it helpful to show them this PN and if they have any concerns to contact the relevant Product Provider(s) directly. If personal information is submitted about another person (for example spouse/partner), then by signing this form, you confirm that they have consented to providing their information for the information to be used and shared as set out in this notice.

How we use the information we collect

Product Providers on this form will use personal information collected from you and personal information about you obtained from other sources such as your financial intermediary in the following ways:

- To provide you with your required policy;
- To decide what terms, they can offer;
- To administer your policy;
- To support legitimate interests that they have as a business;
- To prevent, detect or investigate financial crime;
- To help them better understand their customers and improve customer engagement. This may include research; statistical analysis, profiling and customer analytics which allows them to make certain predictions and assumptions about your interests, and make correlations about their customers to improve their products;
- To meet any applicable legal or regulatory obligations: they need this to meet compliance requirements with their regulators (e.g. Financial Conduct Authority), to comply with law enforcement and to manage legal claims; and
- To carry out other activities that are in the public interest: for example, they may need to use personal information to carry out anti-money laundering checks.

Some of the information they collect as part of an application for a policy may be provided to them by a third party. This may include information Product Providers and their subsidiaries already hold about you and your dependant, including details from previous quotes and claims, information they obtain from publicly available records, their trusted third parties and from industry databases, including fraud prevention agencies and databases.

Legal basis for processing Personal Data

Where processing of data is necessary for entering into a contract with a Product Provider or for the performance of a contract which you (the data subject) are aware of the legal processing of Personal Data, this is based on Article 6.1(b) of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

Processing of Special Categories of Personal Data (for example health or medical data) is based on Article 9.2(g) of the GDPR in that processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public interest and conducted on the basis of applicable law where the only data processed will be that necessary for the aim specified in order to respect the Data Subject's rights and interests.

Who your Personal Information may be shared with

The personal information a Product Provider holds about you may be shared with the following recipients subject to security, contractual and transfer adequacy safeguards as appropriate:

- (a) their group affiliates (where they exist);
- (b) their agents;
- (c) their business partners/service providers who assist them in providing the services they offer;
- (d) doctors or any relevant medical professional; and
- (e) credit agencies (for the purpose of identification verification).

The following categories of agents, business partners and close affiliations assist them in the provision of ancillary services and they only use your personal information to the extent necessary to perform their functions:

- Providers for pricing/underwriting purposes: these Providers may share your personal information with their group companies for the same purpose;
- Service providers: for the provision of support services such as reinsurance, product administration, receiving and sending marketing communications, data analysis and validation, IT support services, archiving, auditing, business administration and other support services and tasks, from to time;
- Business partners who may have referred you to us: to provide them with relevant management information;
- Other companies in the event we undergo a re-organisation or are sold to a third party;
- Regulators and public authorities who have a legal right to request and process your personal information e.g. the FCA, HMRC and the DWP;
- Other subsidiary companies, where relevant, for management information purposes;
- In addition, a Product Provider may disclose your personal information if legally entitled or required to do so, for example, if required by law or by a court order or if they believe that such action is necessary to prevent fraud or cybercrime or to protect their website or the rights of individuals or their property or the personal safety of any person.

How long Product Providers will keep your Personal Information for

Product Providers maintain a retention policy to ensure they only keep personal information for as long as they reasonably need it for the purposes explained in this notice. They need to keep information for the period necessary to administer your insurance and deal with claims and queries on your policy. They may also need to keep information after their relationship with you has ended, for example, to ensure they have an accurate record in the event of any complaints or challenges, carry out relevant fraud checks, or where they are required to do so for legal, regulatory or tax purposes.

Anonymised personal information will not be considered as personal since no individual can be identified by that information. Product Providers may use anonymised personal information for further actuarial and business analysis, business research and reporting to help develop their products and services.

Transmission and Security of Personal Information

Product Providers have security measures in place to protect against the loss, misuse and alteration of personal information under their control as required by current Data Protection laws and, as of May 2018, the EU GDPR.

For example, Product Providers' security and privacy policies are periodically reviewed and enhanced as necessary and only authorised personnel have access to personal information. Whilst they cannot ensure or guarantee that loss, misuse or alteration of information will never occur, they will use all reasonable efforts to prevent it.

Data Transfer outside of the European Economic Area (EEA)

Given the global nature of some Product Providers' businesses, some will use third party suppliers and outsourced services (including Cloud-based services), which can require transfers of personal information outside of the EEA. In doing so, Product Providers will ensure that there are appropriate contractual arrangements in place and will choose only those organisations with strict controls via appropriate organisational and technical measures to protect your personal information.

Notification of Changes to Privacy Policy

Product Providers will reserve the right to amend or modify the Privacy Policy at any time and in response to any changes in applicable Data Protection and privacy legislation.

If Product Providers decide to change their Privacy Policy, they will post these changes on their websites so that you are aware of the information they collect and use it at all times.

If at any point Product Providers decide to use or disclose information they have collected, in a manner different from that stated at the time it was collected, they will notify you.
